

How to Reset a Joomla Password or WordPress Admin Password

So, you're "admin" and you forgot your password. Yeah, we've all been there.

1. Fire up PHPMyAdmin or get into your db somehow.
2. Go into the `_users` table. This is usually `mos_users`, but there's the option to make your own prefix on the db tables, so you may have changed it.
3. Look at all the users. Find the admin one and update the password to the following, which equals "admin":

Copy

21232f297a57a5a743894a0e4a801fc3

4. Your password should now be:

Copy

admin

You should, of course, change it immediately.

Reset a WordPress Password

And here's how to do it in WordPress with SQL:

UPDATE 'wordpress'.'wp_users' SET 'user_pass' = MD5('PASSWORD') WHERE
'wp_users'.'user_login' ='admin' LIMIT 1;

In this example, the new password will be: PASSWORD

You should, of course, change it immediately.
