Did You See What I Did There?

I found a bunch of websites that offer referral or affiliate bonuses — basically, if someone signs up through your link, you both get paid or rewarded in some way. You get paid, they get paid.

And here's the fun part: you can do this too.

Most of the links on this page are part of affiliate programs or referral deals that anyone can join. That means you can take these same links, sign up as an affiliate or member, and start earning just by sharing them with your friends, family, or audience.

Easy Ways to Share Affiliate Links

- Pinterest: Create helpful pins that link to your referral or blog page
- Facebook: Share in posts, stories, or relevant groups (without spamming)
- Instagram: Use your bio link or post about products/services in stories
- TikTok: Make quick videos about what you're promoting and drop the link in your bio
- Email: Send to friends or your email list with a short note about why it's worth checking out
- Blog posts or reviews: Write about your experience and include the link naturally
- Reddit (carefully): Only if it adds value and fits the subreddit's rules
- YouTube: Add referral links in video descriptions or talk about them in your content
- Link in bio tools: Use something like Linktree to share multiple affiliate links from one profile
- QR codes: Print one on a card or flyer to hand out at events

Start with one or two methods that feel natural to you — and go from there. The key is to be helpful, not pushy.

Make Business Cards

Sometimes I even make up simple business cards with an open-loop headline (something that makes people curious), a short call to action, and a domain name that either redirects to my affiliate link or leads to a one-page site that explains more. I always include a QR code too — that way, people don't have to type anything in. Just scan and go.

Sometimes 1-2 sales/commissions takes care of the cost of the cards. You can make them on Canva pretty easily.

Just... Do Something. Get Started – Take Some Kind of Action

Maybe 2-3 in 20 things you do will get some traction. That’s how it goes. People who one thing then give up don’t get anywhere. Do 20 things, see which does the best (always do tracking) and then lather, rinse, repeat the winners.

Affiliate marketing doesn’t have to be complicated — sometimes it’s just a matter of knowing where to look and how to share. Want help getting started? Keep looking at articles on this website.
